Wood Work – Furniture

Business: “It’s All in the Curves”

Wood is alive and has a spirit and I strive to bring that spirit into a form that is meaningful.

In my early years the wood forms took shape into functional pieces. As I evolved as a creator with wood then came the evolution into curves and artistic depth. Experimenting with woods from around the world, I bring together the functional, the playful and the sensual into uniquely designed furniture creations. “I let the wood talk to me, and together we create wonderful forms of expression. It’s all in the curves.”
